

ABOUT US

Development Aid from People to People in Zimbabwe is a Private Voluntary Organization registered in Zimbabwe in June 1980 under the Ministry of Labour and Social Welfare, with registration number PVO 22/80. Over the past 44 years, DAPP has complemented the government of Zimbabwe's efforts by implementing development projects in five thematic areas: Agriculture, Health, Education, Community Development and Emergencies.

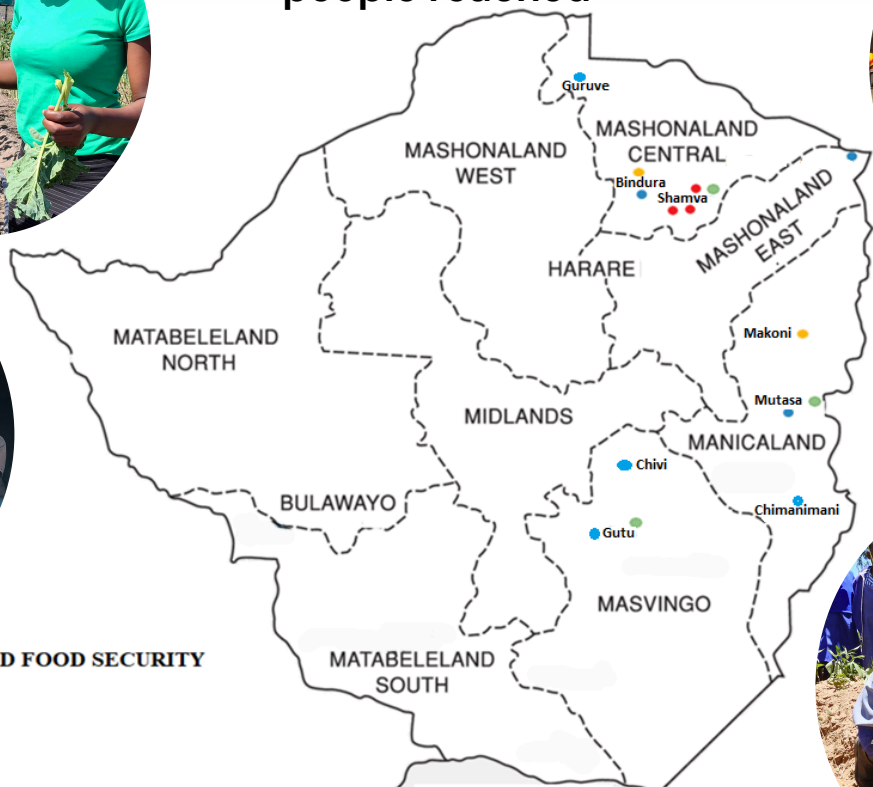

We do not work in isolation but we adopt a collaborative approach, working closely with the relevant government ministries, public and private sectors. By prioritizing inclusive participation and community input, we tailor our projects to address specific challenges and aspirations, ensuring contextually relevant and effective solutions. In 2024, we successfully imple

In 2024, we successfully implemented 13 development projects across eight districts in three provinces namely Mashonaland Central, Manicaland, and Masvingo.

SUSTAINABLE AGRICULTURE AND ENVIRONMENT

Supporting and empowering small-scale farmers is crucial for the overall Well-being and resilience of rural communities.

DAPP Zimbabwe supports smallholder farmers in building resilience against climate shocks, aligned with Zimbabwe’s National Development Strategy 1 and Sustainable Development Goals, including Zero Hunger by 2030.

We believe that with adequate support, capacity building and access to appropriate technologies, rural communities can effectively manage the effects of adverse weather conditions.

Our flagship farmers models, Farmers’ Clubs and From Communal to Commercial, complements the government’s efforts to enhance household food, nutrition and income security through climate-resilient agriculture practices. By organizing smallholder farmers into groups, we equip them with the necessary skills and knowledge they require to enhance their livelihoods. In 2024, we made significant strides in improving the livelihoods of 4,622 smallholder farmers in Chivi, Chimanimani, Gutu, Guruve, Makoni, Mutasa and Shamva

HEALTH

Empowering communities to be active participants in their own health care.

Our Passion for People Movement empowers individuals and communities to take ownership of their health, driving progress towards Sustainable Development Goal 3.3 (UNDP) end the epidemics of AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria by 2030.

Our flagship health programmes, HOPE Bindura and Total Control of TB (TC TB) Makoni, promote access to HIV and TB treatment, care and support services. Our community-based health projects collaborate with local structures to promote access to treatment, encourage health-seeking behavior and community participation in raising awareness.

We establish support networks, such as Treatment Buddies System (TRIOS) to support people living with HIV and TB. In 2024, our health-focused projects reached 115,000 individuals in Bindura and Makoni districts, Zimbabwe, providing critical interventions and education on HIV, TB, sexual health, hygiene, and sanitation

113,970 people reached with HIV/TB information	341 Tripartite Buddies (TRIOs) support group formed	35 HIV positives initiated on treatment

EDUCATION

Promoting education as a human right.

At DAPP, we believe that education has the transformative power to break cycles of poverty, illiteracy, disease, climate shocks and inequality. Through our three educational institutions, we empower over 1,000 students with skills required for survival, from Early Childhood Development to tertiary level.

Our education programmes align with the Government of Zimbabwe Education Model 5.0, which emphasizes education, skills development entrepreneurship and innovation for national development and the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals. Furthermore, our vocational skills training programmes provides opportunities for young people, including adolescent girls, young women and persons living with disabilities, to access education and create a livelihood for themselves and their families.

Our three schools enrolled 692 students in various intakes throughout 2024. Student's participated in academic, social and development activities according to their age ad enrollment purpose and were in line with the purpose of each institution. The schools successfully sustained income-generating projects in poultry and gardening, while the climate adaptation centres at Frontline Institute and Ponesai Vanhu Technical College provided surrounding communities with training on low-cost technologies, enhancing their ability to produce and have access food.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Building capacity of families and communities to create a conducive environment for the children.

DAPP Zimbabwe's Child Aid programme addresses these challenges through a holistic approach, focusing on household, community and district-level development. By empowering families and communities to work together, we promote children's rights and ensure access to basic needs, creating a supportive environment for children to thrive.

Ultimately, our goal is to guarantee that every family has access to fundamental necessities like food, economic security, sanitation facilities and water. In Child Aid we tackle I cross-cutting issues like climate change, Gender-Based Violence and Alcohol Drug substance abuse working together with other key players including government line ministries.

In 2024, we implemented two Child Aid projects in Shamva, Bindura and Chimanimani Districts reaching 1,831 families.
